

Conservation Project Manager – Azores

Oceano Azul Foundation is looking for a Project Manager to join its Conservation team.

This position is based in the Azores.

The selected candidate will be responsible for:

- Information scouting, scooping and preparation in order to deliver complete, accurate and on time reports that can aid in decision making related to Conservation projects;
- Ensures the development, deployment and due follow-up of the projects;
- Prepares and collects the information needed to support the projects and meetings related to Conservation.
- Promote, organize and support the work of a network of partner institutions and organizations

This is an amazing opportunity to join a recently created Foundation, which has already built a solid reputation internationally and to contribute to a worldwide cause.

Who we are looking for University degree (5 years);

At least 3 years of professional or academic experience in Conservation;

Fluent in English and Portuguese;

That excel on the following competencies:

- Team work and cooperation;
- Accountability and responsibility;
- Growth mindset;
- Challenge the status quo, looks under the rock;
- Analytical thinking;
- Rigour, accuracy and attention to detail;
- Resilience and stress management
- Sense of urgency and priority setting.

OCEANO AZUL foundation

Based or willing to relocate to the Azores.

Who we are

Oceano Azul Foundation aims at contributing to a healthy and productive ocean to the benefit of our planet and we are committed to contribute to a vision: that a healthy oceans is essential to human development.

The Foundation owns Oceanário de Lisboa.

Learn more about us: <https://www.oceanoazulfoundation.org/>

How to apply

Please submit your application until 20th of October by sending your CV and a motivation letter (1 page) to recruitment@oceanoazulfoundation.org.

Please mention the position in the Subject of the email.

From the Ocean's Point of View.